Asylum Aide Quits Job Under Fire

Dr. G. Allen Troxell, suspended assistant superintendent of Medfield Hospital, resigned under fire last Sunday, it was learned today.

His resignation was tendered on Sunday to Dr. Earl K. Holt, superintendent, now on probation for a year. It was conveyed to the trustees, who immediately met and accepted it.

PLANS TO TRAVEL

No reason for the resignation was given by Dr. Troxell, but his suspension came as the results of charges of irregularities in burial of the pauper insane dead.

Asked if Dr. Troxell had disclosed any plans for the future, Superintendent Holt replied:

"I think that he plans to travel."

Dr. Troxell was suspended April 8 and Superintendent Holt was placed on probation for a year.

WITHOUT AUTOPSIES

At the trustees' meeting Dr. George C Clark, chairman, and other members were informed administrative functions at the hospital were at low ebb and [illegible] laxity was present.

It was charged by Chairman Patrick J. Moynihan of the State Commission on Administration and Finance that unclaimed dead at the hospital had been buried "with complete disregard for the regulations imposed by state law," some burials being without any autopsy.

Guns Line His Way To Rome

By FRANK GERVASI

(Copyright, 1938, I.N.S.)

ROME, May 3—Utmost caution in carrying out the Nazi program in Czechoslovakia to prevent a European conflagration will be urged upon Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler by Premier Mussolini, it was learned on unimpeachable authority today.

As the German ruler sped across the Brenner Pass and on to Italian soil for his historic conversations with Il Duce, it was established that Mussolini would urge extreme moderation in private, behind-the-scenes negotiations with the Fuehrer.

Hitler's path from the Alps to Rome today bristled with guns. Crowds at stations were small—compared with the swarms of uni-

Stocks Stage Mild Rebound

New York, May 3 (AP)—Stocks retrieved fractions to around $2 a share of their recent losses in today's market.

Leaders encountered profit-taking occasionally when top quotations were reduced a shade, but the upswing was resumed later. Near the final hour prices were around the best of the day.

Hitler in Italy; Guarded by Army

ROME, May 3 (AP)—Adolf Hitler moved in triumph across Tuscany late today toward Rome, where Fascism prepared for him the greatest welcome in Italy's history.

As the German Fuehrer's 12-car special train sped southward beneath fair skies, cheering crowds and waving flags greeted him.

Crowds gathered at the little wayside station of Monterotondo, 15 miles out of Rome, where Premier Mussolini was expected to meet his fellow-dictator and confer with him for an hour aboard his train.

It was understood that after this conference Mussolini would precede his guest to Rome in a separate train in order to greet him at the station.

PHONES TO ROME

Crossing the border at historic Brenner Pass this morning, the Hitler special sped from one spectacular welcome to another across northern Italy. Troops guarded his route.

Two hundred locomotive whistles shrilled a salute to Hitler at Bologna, where 50,000 Fascists lined the tracks. In the industrial town of Prato, he was welcomed to Tuscany and stopped eight minutes to telephone Berlin.

At 3:59 p. m. (10:59 a. m., E. D. T.) he left Florence on the last leg of his journey.

On the sides of many freshly painted buildings along the railway the German leader could read excerpts from Mussolini's speeches.

GUARD HIS LIFE

One of these was taken from Il Duce's defense of the Italian government's attitude toward Germany's absorption of Austria:

"We do not discuss our frontiers, we defend them."

In Rome police intensified their already strict surveillance as a precaution against any attempt on Hitler's life. Travelers arriving in the city were subjected to minute inspection of their baggage. Persons at the celebrations were warned against carrying cameras or packages.

While the Italian press devoted nearly all its space to Hitler's visit, L'Osservatore Romano, Vatican organ, did not mention it.

Festive signs ended where the confines of Vatican City began.

POPE TAKES RIDE

The Vatican news service announced that Pope Pius, now at Castel Gandolfo, received four cardinals during the day and took an automobile ride. The Pope left Rome Saturday.

High ranking emissaries welcomed Hitler when he reached Italian territory at Brenner pass for the reunion with Mussolini which is to dramatize the strength of Europe's great fascist states.

Bands played the German and Italian national anthems as the train pulled into the newly-constructed railway station at Brenero, lavishly decorated with flowers and bunting, at 8:01 a. m.

Parley Preview

Here is a thumbnail sketch of the positions which Hitler and Mussolini are expected to take during their momentous conversations which start with the arrival of Der Fuehrer in Rome today.

Mussolini

1.—He will assure Hitler of his satisfaction with Germany's annexation of Austria, reiterating that he always regarded anschluss (Austro-German union) as inevitable.

2.—He will express the hope that the peace of central and eastern Europe will be stabilized as a result of anschluss, but will warn his guest to go slow in Czechoslovakia, for moves there are loaded with war.

3.—He will explain that the Anglo-Italian agreement was not concluded with any intention of breaking the Rome-Berlin axis.

Hitler

1.—He will propose that General Francisco Franco join Germany and Italy in the anti-Communist treaty and that the Reichsfuehrer therewith will support Mussolini's agreements with England regarding Spain, and

2.—That Germany and Italy form an economic entente in the Danubian Basin, including Hungary and the Italian port of Trieste where Germany would be given free harbor privileges.

Jap Army Driven Back 7 Miles

SHANGHAI, May 3 (AP)—Chinese dispatches tonight reported a sensational seven-mile advance on the southern Shantung front, focal point of the war, and declared that the Japanese lines had buckled completely under the Chinese onslaught.

The advance was said to be the first thrust of a general Chinese offensive, in which 800,000 men were declared ready to participate.

The reports said the advance was made between Taierhchwang, scene of a major Japanese defeat early last month, and Pihsien, 15 miles to the southeast, in Kiangsu province.

WHARF RATE PLEA

Reasonable wharfage rates for Boston were urged today by Walter W. McCoubrey of Boston Port Authority. He made his recommendation to Charles B. Gray, examiner for the U. S. Maritime Commission.

Daladier Orders Tax, Arms Boost

PARIS, May 3 (AP)—Increases in man power for all France's armed forces were ordered today by Premier Daladier, head of the "National Defense" government, ruling by decree.

An edict which became law this morning demands more soldiers, sailors and aviators and many new sacrifices from Frenchmen to support the cost of the modern war machinery.

Decrees increased France's annual tax bill $120,000,000, levying a flat 8 per cent increase in all direct and hidden taxes.

Duce to Warn Hitler 'Czech Moves Loaded'

formed men guarding the Fuehrer.

Mussolini rode out to meet him 15 miles from Rome.

Mussolini will leave no stone unturned to make absolutely sure Hitler realizes full the grave consequences that might follow any precipitate action across the Austro-German border.

He will impress upon his Nazi visitor the possibility of a new European war if Czech independence is violated, particularly in view of the recently-concluded Anglo-French military alliance.

PEACE AT STAKE

It is amply clear that the Czechoslovakian question will be only one of a series of problems to be thrashed out between the two dictators. On the outcome of their secret talks may hinge the future solidarity of the Rome-Berlin axis as well as Central European peace, in the belief of diplomatic observers.

The Franco-Italian accord, German penetration of the Danubian Basin and the possibilities of an Italo-German military alliance are definitely on the agenda.

Official circles were instructed to deny that the recent Anglo-French conversations prompted Hitler to summon Dr. Franz Woermann, his former charge d'affaires in London, to accompany him to Rome.

No sooner had Woermann reached Berlin to assume his new post as under secrtary for foreign affairs than he was told to pack his bag for Rome.

STUDY ITALIAN ARMY

Woermann is fully posted on the Anglo-French discussions, particularly with relation to their military and Czechoslovakian angles, and these will form a major part of the "inside" talks between Hitler and Mussolini.

Indicative of further German expectations in Europe was the fact Herr Gauss, chief of the legal department of German foreign office, was ordered to come along in case intricate legal interpretations, opinions or briefs are called for.

General Wilhelm Keitel of the German general staff is expected to size up the Italian army, which is of greater interest to Germany than its naval strength.

K. of C. Maps Drive On Indecent Reading

More than 50,000 members of the Knights of Columbus in Massachusetts are going to be enlisted in state-wide drive to wipe out the sale of indecent publications, it was revealed today.

Announcement of the move was made by Patrick J. Moynihan, state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, who declared the drive was given impetus by the recent article in a national magazine which allegedly attacked a Roman Catholic martyr.

This magazine, which was banned in Boston, Cambridge and Providence, is "anti-Catholic and pro-Communistic," Moynihan told the Boston Evening American.

At the same time Moynihan revealed that the K. of C. drive will, to a great extent, be similar to the cmpaign waged by the League of Decency several years ago "in cleaning up the movie industry."

SEEK CARDINALS AID

"Cardinal O'Connell will be asked to aid us in this campaign to purify Massachusetts of improper literature," Moynihan revealed.

Without fanfare and publicity, Moynihan continued, the members of the Knights of Columbus will be asked to "blacklist" magazines containing questionable articles and to boycott stores selling them.

"Any publicity would only stimulate the sale of these magazines," he explained.

On Sunday, the executive council of the Knights of Columbus will meet with members of the resolutions committee in Taunton to draw up resolutions in connection with the drive. These resolutions will be presented at the annual state convention of the K. of C. in New Bedford next Tuesday.

BOYCOTTS OUTLINED

Discussing the methods to be used in the drive, Moynihan declared that each of the grand knights of the 160 councils throughout the state will be responsible for his particular section in boycotting stores selling periodicals which have been "blacklisted" by a specially-appointed committee.

Moynihan declared that he was preparing a bulletin to be sent to every member of the K. of C. in Massachusetts.

"It has come to the point where immediate action must be taken to curb the sale and distribution of anti-Catholic and indecent magazines," he said.

AID TO RED PROPAGANDA

"It is through certain magazines that considerable Communist propaganda is being spread. The filth mongers have reached a new high in boldness and the material in certain fiction, magazines and stage plays is over the bounds of decency.

"Our attitude is not one of censorship but a sound policy to curb those who would interpret liberty as license. The minds and morale of youth are being engendered by these filthy magazines."

Huge Suit On Shirley's Candy Bar

SHIRLEY TEMPLE

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—A $500,000 damage suit, charging that Shirley Temple's picture "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" had injured a candy bar, was filed in supreme court today by the National Confectioners Association, with a membership of 325 candy merchants.

The association alleged that a scene from the picture presents a false impression of their product in that it injures a bar of candy and holds up the candy profession to ridicule and shame.

DELETION SOUGHT

The group also seeks to restrain the producers from showing the picture without deletion of the scenes.

The scene objected to shows Shirley (Rebecca) talking to her "Aunt Miranda" after an absence from home. She was asked if she had had anything to eat.

"Oh, yes, I have," she replied; "Uncle Harry bought me a candy bar."

"$500,000" REMARK

"A candy bar!" Aunt Miranda retorts. "Take the child to the kitchen and give her something decent to eat."

Court Bows To Dying Boy, Frees Dad

PUTNAM, Ct., May 3 (AP)—Because ten-year-old Earl Dinsdale, critically injured while picking cherry blossoms for his mother, was near death today his father received justice tempered with mercy when he pleaded guilty in superior court to burglary.

The boy slipped while gathering the blossoms and fell eight feet, landing on a dead branch, which caused severe internal injuries. After an emergency operation at Day-Kimball Hospital attendants said there was "little hope."

Judge Edward J. Daly was told shortly before the father, Frederick Dinsdale, was arraigned for theft of a radio. He imposed one-year jail sentence, but suspended it.

Windsor's 'Pay' Under Fire

LONDON, May 3 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor's name was heard in Parliament today for the first time in 11 months when a Labor member asked if the former king was receiving a salary from the British armed forces.

J. R. Leslie, the questioner, said he would ask the chancellor of the exchequer tomorrow:

"What positions does the Duke of Windsor hold in the Navy, Army or air force and what emoluments does he receive from those positions?"

The duke, it is understood, still ranks as an admiral of the fleet, field marshal and air marshal, but he lost special seniority, which was his as king, when he abdicated.

It is up to the chancellor of the exchequer, Sir John Simon, to say whether the duke is receiving pay.

Windsor's name had not been mentioned in Congres since June 3, when a Laborite asked—without getting a reply—if the government was congratulating the duke on his wedding.

Bridal Couple At Ex-Kaiser's

DOORN, Holland, May 3 (AP)—Ex-Kaiser Wilhelm smilingly welcomed Prince Louis Ferdinand and the Grand Duchess Kira on the steps of his Doorn house today when the royal couple arrived for their third wedding ceremony.

At Doorn they will be again married in a Protestant ceremony, tomorrow.

Butler Raps State Power

State government has become "bureaucratic" and its power should be restored to cities and towns, Frederick Butler, chairman of the Essex County commissioners, told the Groton Women's Republican Club at Ayer.

Butler, Republican candidate for governor, declared that interest charges for loans in many towns even exceed the welfare expenditures. He charged that people have "lost faith in the handling of civil service matters" because of conditions recently uncovered by the "gift jobs" probe.

Butler speaks in Medford tomorrow and in Malden on May 12.

G-Man, Wounded In Gun-Fight, Dies

DANVILLE, Ill., May 3 (INS)—G-man William R. Ramsey died here early today from seven bullet wounds suffered in a gun battle with an outlaw he shot to death yesterday.

Ramsey led a posse of deputy sheriffs and police to the riverbank hideout of Joe Earlywine, suspected bank robber, near Armstrong, Ill., 25 miles south of here.

In the fight Earlywine was killed by Ramsey before he collapsed from his own wounds. Earlywine's seven-year-old son, Virgil, shot in the chest by a stray bullet, was still in serious condition today.

Earlywine was in bed when the officers broke in. He whipped a gun from beneath the pillow and started firing without warning, while his wife cowered against a wall holding their 11-months'-old baby.

Young Virgil was struck as he played on the floor before having a chance to scamper to safety.

Hoover Blames Cut For G-man's Death

WASHINGTON, May 3 (INS)—Enforced curtailment of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's forces because of insufficient funds was blamed today by Senator Copeland (D.) of New York, and J. Edgar Hoover, chief G-man, for the killing of a G-man in a battle with a bank-robber suspect near Penfield, Ill.

When the Budget Bureau declined to approve a $173,000 deficiency appropriation, Hoover cut his field force in half Saturday.

Learning that Special Agent William R. Ramsey was fatally wounded during the capture of a "suspect," Copeland said:

"This could probably have been avoided if the Federal Bureau of Investigation had been permitted to maintain its full staff. Ordinarily, four agents would have participated in this capture. With the staff cut in half, only two were left on this case, and now one of them is dead.

Jackie Victor In Skirmish

LOS ANGELES, May 3 (INS)—Jackie Coogan today had a "clean sweep" in his preliminary battle to regain his childhood screen earnings.

Superior Judge Emmet H. Wilson overruled demurrers to his accountant against his mother and stepfather and confirmed the appointment of a receiver to take charge of assets having an estimated value of $250,000, to which sum the earnings of the star apparently have dwindled.

The court also granted a preliminary injunction preventing disposal of any of the assets by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bernstein. The rulings mean that Jackie has "a legal cause of action."

Lampoon Party Leaves Whitewash Hangover

Cleaners cleaned up today following the Harvard Lampoon's "fashion show to end all fashion shows," featured by a foiled attempt to kidnap the star guest, Miss Elsa Maxwell, and by the whitewashing of other guests.

The whitewashing, done with spray guns, was declared to have been the prank of the rival Harvard publication, the Crimson, and more than 150 guests were liberally calcimined as they left the Lampoon building.

Miss Maxwell, Manhattan's No. 1 party-thrower, but at the aLmpoon playing only an impassive role, appeared disappointed when informed that the kidnap plot by rival students had failed.

MOURNS FAILURE

"It would have been heavenly," she said sadly. "They didn't do anything like that at Princeton when I had a party down there. They were too dignified at Princeton for that."

The whitewash targets, most of them clad in evening clothes, scattered under the spraying, then rallied forces and dispersed the machine-gunners with "hand grenads" firecrackers.

Most of the prominent guests, who included Miss Maxwell, Gladys Swarthout, Lew Lehr, Ray Bolger and his wife, escaped the drenching by remaining inside.

AFTER ESCAPES

Charles R. Apted, superintendent of Harvard Yard police, was in the first line of intended victims, but he escaped unscathed when he sensed something brewing and jumped nimbly out of range.

Miss Maxwell was escorted to the party in a 1914 roadster automobile.

The fashion show was replete with outlandish surrealist costumes, all worn by males, and a few honest-to-goodness 1938 style creations, modeled by girls, and was intended as a burlesque ballyhoo for "Lampy's" current issue, a parody on a fashion magazine.

3 Plans for Rail Aid Proposed

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—The Senate banking committee received today three administration proposals for emergency financial aid to railroads.

The legislation, introduced by Senator Truman (D.) of Missouri would provide for equipment and maintenance loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and lighten loan restrictions.

For purchase of equipment, the corporation would be empowered to lend money to the railroads, purchase their obligations, or guarantee private loans to them.

Loans would be made for maintenance when the borrower agreed that at least 75 per cent of the federal advance would be used for the re-employment.

Congress would waive until June 30, 1939, a requirement that the Interstate Commerce Commission certify a railroad as not in need of reorganization before it is permitted to borrow from the R. F. C.

Meanwhile, a hearing was scheduled for later today on motions by Dolan and Quinn for further particulars on the contempt petitions filed against them for allegedly conspiring to bribe prospective jurors.

Wife of Long Paid $2000, Says Stone Counsel

Judge Arthur P. Stone of Cambridge court, whose impeachment is sought by Representative Roland D. Sawyer, paid Mrs. Edith Long, wife of Howard Long, condemned sex-slayer, all the money due her, Judge Stone's counsel asserted today at the State House.

The statement was made by Attorney Robert T. Bushnell before he and Stone went before the House rules committee, sitting today in executive session on the Sawyer ouster resolve.

Judge Stone is charged with improperly aiding in the release of Howard Long from Bridgewater State Farm, subsequent to which Long killed two boys in New Hampshire.

Bushnell said he had with him checks showing payments totaling approximately $2000 to Mrs. Long by Judge Stone, who was trustee of a trust fund for Long and who had been instructed by Long to pay sums to Mrs. Long while he was serving his sentence.

At a previous hearing, Mrs. Long was declared to have said, in an affidavit, that she received only between $700 and $800.

library and was last seen talking with a boy on Worcester street. Miss Owens told police the boy was from Providence, R. I., visiting in Newton.

No trace of the Rogers girl had been found after an all-night search.

Last March the postmaster's daughter was reported missing with another Needham high school girl, but their jaunt ended 36 hours later in Providence. She said at the time that they had started out for Broadway to "knock the White Way dead."

Missing since April 26, the Hammond girl was also the object of a New England wide search today. Miss Hammond disappeared after she waved good-by to a Notre Dame Academy classmate near the Massachusetts avenue subway station.

ROXBURY GIRL GONE

Her mother, Mrs. Betty Hammond, told police the girl had only $1.50. She was wearing the school uniform of three-quarter length blue coat, pleated skirt, suede shoes and black cap and bag.

John Horton of Terrace street, Roxbury, today reported that his daughter had been missing since 8 a. m. yesterday.

Col. Roosevelt's Son Quizzed in Auto Suits

He was driving 10 miles an hour at the time of the collision, Theodore Roosevelt, 3d, grandson of the late President Theodore Roosevelt and one of the central figures in a civil suit for damages, testified in Middlesex Superior Court today.

Plaintiff in the suit, which grew out of an accident near Shrewsbury in April, 1935, is Mrs. Eleanor B. Roosevelt, mother of Roosevelt, 3d, and Cornelius V. S. Roosevelt, another figure in the action.

In the name of Cornelius, Mrs. Roosevelt is suing, in two suits for $15,000 each, Bernard Pagliucca, of Somerville, and Albert H. Newhouse of Newhouse Motor Transportation Co. of Medford. In the third suit, the defendant Pagliucca is being sued for $1000 for damages to a beach wagon owned by Mrs. Roosevelt.

The Roosevelt boys, it is alleged, were returning to Cambridge when the beach wagon collided with a parked truck on a state highway during a snowstorm. The Somerville man is alleged to have been the driver for the truck which is owned by the Medford company.

Under cross-examination, Theodore Roosevelt, 3d, further testified today that as he applied the brakes his head crashed into the windshield. His brother, it was testified, suffered a fractured arm which required insertion of a steel plate which is still in his arm.

60 Miles on Gallon of Gas

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—Emile E. C. Mathis, French motor manufacturer, today said that he and a Swedish industrialist were planning a new type of automobile powered by a radial motor in the rear, to sell for $500 or less.

The American plant would be located near New York.

Mathis said the car was designed to go 50 to 60 miles on a gallon of gasoline, and that the motor would have seven, eight or nine cylinders.

G-Men Trail Kidnaped Levine Boy in Maine

OLD TOWN, Me., May 3—G-men, state and local police today scoured the woods and camps along Lake Mattanawcook in search of Peter Levine, 12, kidnaped from his New Rochelle, N. Y., home February 24.

Local police, after conferring with Department of Justice agents who rushed here from Boston, declared:

"This is the hottest tip yet on the Levine boy."

TWO SAW THEM

Joseph Willett, a Lincoln woodsman, and Burtis H. Lugdon, a Milford garageman, said they saw a boy answering the Levine youngster's description, in custody of a man.

Both said they identified the kidnaped youth from photographs on the circulars sent out by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Willett reported to authorities he had given the man and boy a night's lodging Thursday at his camp on the lake.

CALLS IN G-MEN

Lugdon, who said he saw the pair Thursday afternoon, "tipped" Police Chief Guy Moore of this town following the departure of the man and boy. Moore called in the G-men.

Willett said the man and boy were well-dressed.

After leading them to his camp, he told authorities, the man gave him some money and sent him to town to buy food. Willett said he had told the man he would return in the morning to escort him and the boy out of the woods.

"When I returned to the camp in the morning they were gone," Willett was quoted by police.

Hospital May Ignore Council, Save 8 Jobs

Trustees of City Hospital probably will ignore the city council action looking toward ouster of the superintendent of nurses and seven assistants, it was predicted today at City Hall.

Yesterday the council slashed $15,700 off the hospital appropriation, a sum covering the total of the eight attaches' salaries for this year.

By persons familiar with financial affairs at the hospital, however, it was predicted the trustees would meet this curtailment by hiring fewer temporary employes.

Central figure in the battle is Miss Laura R. Logan, brought here from Illinois to be superintendent of nurses at $4000 a year.

WHERE CUT FALLS

The assistants, all from outside the State, are:

Miss Margaret Busche, Ohio, $2000; Miss Cecilia Knox, Illinois, $2000; Miss Artie S. Kerley, North Carolina, $1450; Mrs. Martha Thompson, New Hampshire, $1450; Miss Clara R. Ellis, California, $1650; Miss Anne Duncan, Kansas, $1500, and Miss Merriam Moore, California.

Last year the City Hospital paid $51,000 in wages to temporary employes. It was predicted the nurses' slash of $15,700 would mean just this amount less in temporary employe expenditures this year.

No trustee would commit himself today on what might happen.

CALLED "ABLE WOMAN"

"I prefer to make no comment until the trustees meet Friday at 10 o'clock," said Joseph F. Manning, chairman of the hard.

"I was ill during the time arrangements were made with Miss Logan.

"She fought her own people to supervise the institution, which I think was quite correct. So far as I can learn, she is an able woman.

"The first duty of the trustees is to the patients. This agitation will serve only to alarm relatives and friends of patients."

Miss Logan said:

"I am exceedingly sorry that this had to happen. It is especially unfortunate that we should suffer any further cuts at an institution already handicapped by lack of funds. That's all I can say.

"My own status and that of my assistants will have to be spoken for by the trustees."

Torso Killer Clue Found on 11th Victim

CLEVELAND, May 3 (AP)—Investigators had a tangible clue today to the identity of a young mother who became the 11th victim of Cleveland's crazed torso slayer.

Fragments of her body—trunk, severed thighs and right foot—were found in the Cuyahoga river near downtown Cleveland by bridge attendants. Coroner S. R. Gerber said a lower left leg taken from the river three weeks ago was part of the same body. The head is missing.

Detectives hoped to learn the name of the woman through a T-shaped abdominal scar. Gerber said it might have been made in an appendectomy years ago or a Caesarean operation.

Investigators said the killer had dismembered the body crudely, unlike the almost professional manner in which he had butchered previous victims. Yet Gerber held that the woman met death at the same maniacal hands.

Ex-Dartmouth Athlete Slain

CHICAGO, May 3 (INS)—Seven women were arrested in raids today in connection with the death of Paul Davidson MacLean, 32, of the University of Chicago publicity staff, found in a South Side alley with fatal skull injuries. All the women were Negroes.

Orders went out to look for two women and a man with whom MacLean was seen scuffling a few hours before he was found unconscious.

MacLean, former Dartmouth football player, was at first believed to have been the victim of a hit-and-run driver, but witnesses identified his body as that of the man seen in the fight.

Senate Foes Act to Kill Naval Bill

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Senator Clark (D.), Missouri, asked the Senate today to pigeon-hole the administration's $1,156,000,000 naval bill.

Clark moved to recommit the measure, saying it would provide for "squandering" an unknown sum.

He said it could not be ascertained whether the program would cost the $1,156,000,000 its backers estimated, "or $1,500,000,000, $2,000,000,000 or $2,500,000,000."

Opponents of the bill, rechecking their strength as the Senate approached a vote, agreed they had virtually no chance to defeat the program.

Senator Nye (R.), North Dakota, indicated the foes would resume the battle when appropriation measures are considered.

Fore River Bids For Cargo Vessels

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Nine shipyards submitted proposals to the maritime commission today for construction of 12 steel cargo vessels.

The Hess Weld Ship and Barge Corporation of Philadelphia submitted the lowest bid today.

The bods submitted by the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Fore River plant, (Quincy, Mass.) were: One steam-powered vessel $3,039,000; six $2,615,000 each; adjusted price basis, one vessel 2,899,-000; six $2,494,000. (A 15 per cent leeway is provided for increasing or decreasing costs in adjusted price bidding.)

Puppy Letters Being Judged

Judges were half way through a pile of thousands of letters today in the quest for the writer who will be awarded Robin, a darling cocker spaniel puppy.

Announcement of the winner will be made Thursday when some lucky child will be told its letter on "Why we should be kind to animals" has been adjudged the winner.

All letters bearing a postmark not later than last Saturday are eligible in the competition.

The contest was sponsored to emphasize "Be Kind to Animals Week" and an avalanche of letters poured in from boy and girl readers.

Robin's kennel registration name is "Kressingham's Robinhood." He is nine weeks old, a grandnephew of "Flush," whom you probably saw in the movie, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," with Norma Shearer and Charles Laughton, and he is being raised at the fine Kresshington Kennels in South Hingham.

Last Mile Nears, Borgia Fights On

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, O., May 3—Death in the electric chair seemed only a little more than 24 hours away today for blonde Anna Marie Hahn, Cincinnati poison slayer, but she clung desperately to the flickering candle of hope.

While her counsel, Joseph Hoodin, was planning to go into court this afternoon in a move to block the execution, the "blonde iceberg" was pinning her hopes on an 11th-hour intervention by Governor Davey.

Mrs. Hahn, doomed to be the first woman to pay the supreme penalty in Ohio's "chair" calmly awaited her fate in her cell in the state prison. Tomorrow evening she is scheduled to walk "the last mile." But if she has to die, she says, she will meet the ordeal without flinching.

Her lawyer, Hoodin, prepared to go before Chief Justice Weygandt this afternoon with a petition asking that the case be appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The 31-year-old Mrs. Hahn was convicted last November of the murder by poison of Jacob Wagner, 78, by a jury of eleven women and one man. The state contended she was guilty of other poisonings. Although a woman, there has been no general movement to prevent the execution. Mrs. Margaret Allman, director of welfare institutions, said this is an "astonishing angle" of the case.

If Mrs. Hahn's petition for appeal to the United States Supreme court is allowed her execution would be put off indefinitely. It would take 30 days to make a record of the trial for the U. S. Supreme court.

By that time the U. S. Supreme court would be on vacation and would not get a chance to review the case before the first week in October.

Norfolk Man's Death After Beating Probed

Brutally beaten, possibly a murder victim, Enrico Desantis, 37, father of two children, died today in Norwood Hospital.

An investigation of the mysterious death was immediately begun by State Detective Lieutenants Joseph Ferrari and Michiel Fleming, who were at the bedside, but who were unable to obtain any statement.

Desantis lived in Myrtle street, City Mills, a part of the town of Norfolk, and was employed on the Norfolk summer estate of Henry Nemrow, wealthy Boston wholesale tobacconist and Brookline resident.

An autopsy will be performed to determine exactly from what the badly-beaten man died.

Desantis, with two black eyes and many head bruises, was brought to the hospital by Norfolk police from the home of Ralph Candella of Myrtle street, where Desantis is said once to have worked.

According to police, the injured man had been brought to the Candella home last Saturday from the Nemrow estate by a fellow employe who told them he had found Desantis in bed on the estate, semi-conscious.

Desantis' wife and two children are said to be in Italy.

'Cat Burglar' Bail $2000

Beacon Hill's so-called "cat burglar," who, for two months used water spouts to perpetrate nearly 50 robberies in which $500 in cash and several thousand dollars' worth of jewelry were stolen, pleaded not guilty in Municipal Court today and his attorney charged he was "victimized" by newspapers.

He is William Bolinsky, 21, of Lowell street, West End, and he was held in $2000 by Judge Reilly for Superior Court.

See Teacher Vindicated

CARVER, May 3—The controversy over the teaching job of Miss Florence Kaski raged uncontrolled here today with failure of the school board to come to any decision.

Chairman Russell Shaw of the school board adjourned an executive hearing early this morning with only the announcement that some decision might be made tonight.

This action was interpreted as complete vindication by Eben Townes, the teacher's counsel.

Townes declared that Miss Kaski had been placed in a new light in the hearing, that the board feels differently about her now, and that her job would be restored to her at the regular meeting of the board tonight.

Alpert Hired Kin, Charge In Hearing

After Atty. George Alpert had become one of the receivers of the $16,000,000 Conveyancers' Title Insurance and Mortgage Co., he placed a sister and a brother-in-law on the payroll, it was charged today in Supreme Court.

The charge was made by Atty. H. LeBaron Sampson, representing certain security holders of the closed corporation, in questioning receivers' fees and charges.

In addition to Alpert, receivers are Joseph J. Mulhern and John W. Corcoran.

Sampson charged Phyllis Alpert was hired as a telephone operator at $95 a month and William Siegel at $3400 a year as district manager of the real estate holdings "although he had no previous real estate experience."

Alpert, defending the course and denying the employes were "extra," said their employment was necessary because of a 50 per cent increase in office work as a result of foreclosure.

The case will come up again Tuesday when a memorandum will be submitted, comparing cost of managing the properties before and after receivership.

Test U. S. Ruling On Handbill Law

LAWRENCE, May 3 (INS)—In a test case to sound out the scope of a recent United States Supreme Court ruling, Stephen Kuhara, 23, Textile Workers' Organizing Committee member, today was fined $10 for violation of the city ordinances in distributing handbills. He appealed.

Attorney A. Frank Riel told Judge Frederic N. Chandler the case was brought to test the March 28 high court ruling that city ordinances prohibiting distribution of handbills were unconstitutional and abridged freedom of the press, since handbills were products of the press.

End 'Mercy' Flight

PLUCKY LITTLE PATIENT—Mrs. John Forbes, Chicago, formerly of Somerville, and her 32-months-old son, John, after arrival here on plane trip from Midwest. Little John suffers with throat obstruction which doctors here will seek to remove. On aerial voyage he hid troubles behind constant smile.

Baby, Unable to Swallow, Here for Examination

Laughing gleefully after his airplane flight from Chicago, baby John Forbes was made ready today by his anxious mother, Mrs. Alexander Forbes, for a hospital examination of throat trouble which prevents him from swallowing.

The two-year-and-eight-month-old baby, unaware that consultations at Faulkner Hospital may mean life or death, giggled with the same good spirits he showed during the rush flight from Chicago.

His throat obstruction has given the child trouble in taking nourishment but apparently no pain, Mrs. Forbes said. A new attack last Friday prompted her to take him here.

The child's father is a manager in a Chicago firm. Until eight months ago the family resided in Somerville.

Bank Holding Bill Shelved

WASHINGTON, May 3 (INS)—President Roosevelt's anti-monopoly program ran against unexpected opposition today when a Senate banking and currency subcommittee deferred indefinitely consideration of the Glass bank holding company bill.

By unanimous consent, the committee, headed by Senator Glass (D.) of Virginia, "pigeon-holed" the measure, which included proposals recommended by the President in his monopoly message to Congress.

The committee's action represented a complete and unexpected reversal of that section of the President's anti-monopoly program.

Play Spots for Charlestown

Long due recreational improvements in Charlestown were promised by Mayor Tobin today following a surprise visit to the district.

Declaring the recreaton facilities "are totally inadequate," the mayor added that work would begin as soon as WPA funds are forthcoming.

According to the mayor, one of the improvements will be the erection of a stadium at Sullivan square playground.

Deploring conditions at Dewey Beach, the district's only bathing beach, Mayor Tobin said it would be "cleaned thoroughly" and that shelters would be erected for mothers and children. He said the place is covered with debris and rocks.

The Rutherford avenue playground, the mayor said, will have a wading pool and new tennis courts.

N. Y. Merchants See Dies Bill Aid to Crime

NEW YORK, May 3—Denouncing the measure as one which would give absolute discretion to the Secretary of Labor to permt several thousand habitual alien criminals and undesirables, who are now subject to mandatory deportation, to remain in this country, the Merchants' Association, composed of 6000 members, announced today that it had filed with Senators Copeland and Wagner, a memorandum in opposition to the Dies bill.

This measure was passed by the House of Representatives last June and was recently reported by the immigration committee of the Senate.

It would still, according to the association, permit the Secretary of Labor to condone the commission of crimes involving moral turpitude to the extent of permitting aliens guilty of such crimes to remain in the United States and would also make possible the naturalization of aliens who entered this country illegally.

The association's letter, which was sent to all of the members of the Senate committee on immigration, said, in part:

"The official records of the Department of Labor show that there are now several thousand habitual alien criminals and undesirables in the United States who are subject to the mandatory deportation provisions of existing law. If the Dies bill were enacted its provisions would give absolute discretion to the Secretary of Labor as to whether any such criminal aliens and undesirables shall be deported.

"Other provisions would permit the Secretary of Labor to condone the commission of crimes involving moral turpitude, such as bribery, perjury or fraud, or even forgery, to accomplish an illegal entry into the United States."

June O'Dea's Suit Postponed Again

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—The separation suit of June O'Dea and Vernon "Goofy" Gomez, New York Yankee pitcher, was adjourned again today because Supreme Court Justice Aaron J. Levy was too busy with other cases. The case was set for tomorrow.

Deal Critic Urges NLRB Heads Resign

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Senator Burke of Nebraska, one of the Administration's severest Democratic critics, called today for the resignations of the members of the National Labor Relations Board, charging that they conceived their duty to be the "compulsory unionization" of American workers.

Burke addressed delegates to the conference of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

He asserted that new personnel on the labor board would "greatly help" to solve what he termed the "deplorable condition" now existing around the labor relations law.

He declared some changes were needed in the law itself, including a declaration of policy that it was intended to be fair to employers as well as to employes.

C. S. Ching, director of industrial and public relations for U. S. Rubber Products, Inc., urged "organized labor and industry" to sit down together to discuss their mutual problems.

Senate Refuses Job-Probe Shift

By a standing vote of 25 to 9, the Senate today rejected Governor Hurley's demand that the inquiry into the Massachusetts Unemployment Commission be widened to investigation of all civil service appointments since 1916.

Over protest of Democratic senators, the Senate accepted its rules committee's advice that a special committee be restricted to inquiry into the unemployment commission.

Simone Has 'Em Guessing

Shields Identity Of Mystery Friend

LOS ANGELES, May 3 (AP)—While Simone Simon's secretary remained in jail, the film colony today speculated on the identity of the petite actress' mysterious friend.

To this friend, Miss Simon testified, she gave a set of gold keys to her home, pajamas, gold hairbrushes, dressing gown and slippers.

The testimony was given at the preliminary hearing of Sandra Martin, ex-secretary of the screen actress, who is charged with stealing $11,010 from her employer.

Miss Martin was remanded to the county jail pending her arraignment May 18. She is being held in lieu of $10,000 bail.

Miss Simon told of her gifts to the unnamed friend when Defense Attorney William E. Simpson cross-examined her. He tried to bring out that a $725 check signed by Miss Martin was to cover money she advanced to the actress for purchase of the gifts.

The presents lavished upon Miss Simon's friend cost almost $600. The keys and brushes bore the initials of the recipient, in the actress' handwriting.

Wire Reveals Triple Killing

TAMPA, Fla., May 3 (AP)—A telegram from a young woman in Pittsburgh, Pa., sent police officers to a suburban home here to find a mother and her two children slain and the father missing.

The message came from Miss Ingeborg Bunge who said she had just received a letter from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bunge, Tampa residents since February. They told her that, by the time she read the message, they and two small sisters would be dead.

Police found the woman, listed as Mrs. Paul Friede-Bunge, 48, dead in a bathtub, her throat slashed. In a bedroom were two little girls, listed as Edith Ann, 9, and Nina, 5, clutching their dolls in death.

SUSPECT HELD

Warren King, 27, of Howell court, Chelsea, today was held on on a charge of larceny and burning a building in connection with the attempted safe looting at the Portland Elevator Company, Oliver street, which caused a $3500 fire.

Announce $10,000 Awards Thursday

Winners in the recent $10,000 "Name the Movie Stars" contest—576 cash prizes to be awarded—will be announced in Thursday's Boston Evening American.

The name of the lucky first prize winner of $2500 and the 575 other winners will be published beginning on that day and continuing until Saturday.

Tell your newsdealer to reserve your copy now.

The contest, in which 27,000 entries were received, was easy and entertaining. All a contestant had to do was to rearrange the letters published in the Boston Evening American. When properly placed, the letters spelled the name of a well-known film actor or actress.

Judges who made the final decisions included Mrs. Malcolm Bradley French, of Brookline, Dean Howard M. Le Soeurd, head of the Boston University School of Education, and Joseph H. Brennan, executive secretary of the Allied Theaters of Massachusetts.

A group of the eligible solutions was given the three judges who were forced to resort to the 50-word letters on "Who my favorite star is and why," which were sent with all solutions.

Because many sets of puzzle pictures were solved correctly judges were guided in the final selections by the letters.

Second prize in the contest is $1250, third is $1000, fourth $500, fifth $200, sixth $100 and 570 more ranging from $50 to $5.

SORE FEET

To His Soldiers Napoleon Said, "OIL YOUR FEET"

Sore, aching, burning feet probably cause more misery—more distress—more bad temper and cursing than most other human ailments.

"Oil your feet," ordered Napoleon to his soldiers before a battle or a long march—he was a clever man.

Many a time—overnight you can take out the sting—the soreness—the burning and aching from your poor distressed feet by giving them a good rubbing with penetrating medicated OMEGA OIL.

Rub them before going to bed and next morning you will probably awake happy—walk more joyfully to work—35c. "Oil your feet."

Judith Allen 2 Million Love Suit Now 0-0-0

LOS ANGELES, May 3 (AP)—The $2,000,000 price tag that Judith Allen placed on the love of her ex-husband, Jack Doyle, boxer and singer, went into the waste-basket today.

The film actress, formerly Marie Elliott of Belmont, Mass., has dismissed the huge alienation of affections suit she filed against Mrs. Delphine Dodge Cromwell Baker Godde, automobile heiress, who, she charged, stole Doyle's love.

"I am sure that Mrs. Goodde had no intention or desire to injure me," Miss Allen said.

Miss Allen obtained a divorce from Doyle in April, 1937, charging he beat her, threatened to kill her and consorted with other women.

Last September romance between Doyle and Mrs. Goode blossomed.

They made rose-tinted plans. Mrs. Godde was then—and still is—married to Timothy Godde, former banker, but she said she would divorce him and marry Doyle.

Miss Allen's divorce decree was not yet final, and she claimed she would have become reconciled to Doyle if Mrs. Godde had not entered the picture. She charged the heiress lavished gifts and dazzled Doyle.

Then the Doyle-Mrs. Godde affair curdled. She went back to her husband.

Miss Allen's first husband was wrestler Gus Sonnenberg.

NEW YORK, May 3 (INS)—"Our Town," Thornton Wilder's strange play about a new England community which startled Broadway by using virtually no scenery, today had the Pulitzer prize as the best American drama to make its debut for the 1937-38 season.

From the ranks of little known poets, Marya Zaturenska emerged to win the annual poetry award for her volume of verse "Cold Morning Sky."

Among other awards were:

For most distinguished example of a newspaper reporter's work—to Raymond Sprigle of the Pittsburgh Post Gazette for his series of articles disclosing the one-time membership of Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black in the Ku Klux Klan.

For most distinguished service as a foreign or Washington correspondent—to Arthur Krock of the New York Times, for his exclusive authorized interview with President Roosevelt on Feb. 27, 1937, on the subject of the President's political philosophy.

For most distinguished example of a cartoonist's work—Vaughn Shoemaker of the Chicago Daily News for his cartoon, "The Road Back."

Raskob to Sell Private R.R. Car

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—John J. Raskob, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is offering his private railroad car, "Skipaway," for sale for $25,000.

The financier said in an advertisement in "Railway Age" the car had cost him $110,000. He bought it in 1928 after his unsuccessful campaign to elect former Governor Alfred E. Smith president.

Dolores Fights Suit By Father

DOLORES COSTELLO
"Did Her Share"

LOS ANGELES, May 3 (AP)—Time was when Maurice Costello made the hearts of matinee audiences go pitty-pat.

Today, the former stage favorite complains, he is broke, ill, and out of a job.

In a suit on file in Superior Court, he called upon his daughter, Dolores Costello, divorced wife of John Barrymore, to contribute $200 a month for his support.

Miss Costello, whom the elderly actor described as in extremely good condition financially, was quick to deny she had shirked a filial obligation.

"For years I have contributed to the support of my father," she said, "and recently I made an alternative offer to his demands.

"My sister, Helene Costello, is ill in a sanatarium and I am aiding her.

"Besides, I have my two children to consider. Naturally, I shall contest the suit."

Haney Sights New Delay in Full Recovery

By LEWIS HANEY

Special to Boston Evening American

NEW YORK, May 3. Another new low has been registered by the weekly indexes of business activity. Coming at a time when the peak of spring trade should be apparent, we will now have to wait until fall for much recovery.

Unless you want to bury your head in the sands of optimism and wish thinking, you had better note that new ALL business recessions.

Also, it now seems clear that some indexes will run below the low levels made during the earlier New Deal recessions in 1934 and the fall of 1937.

It is painful to be forced to face as a people we have ourselves under better control than at any time since we left for the New Deal and began to waste the wealth (of others) instead of earning it by production.

Baering Down on the News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

We finally discovered what prosperity is doing around the corner. It's holding hands with a pump handle.

The old oaken bucket that hung in the well raised its own moss and primed itself. The old hokum bucket that hangs in the balance calls for $4,500,000,000. Let's do the right thing by our finances and make it an even $5,000,000,000. Why take two bites at a cherry?

If prosperity ain't a corner loafer it's time it got a move on.

'William Tell' Next Role for Paul Muni

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor International News Service

LOS ANGELES, May 3—The very newest idea on the horizon for Paul Muni is "The Life of William Tell," the Swiss patriot who freed Switzerland from Austrian control way back in 1470. Heinz Herald and Geza Herczeg, authors of the Emile Zola epic, wrote the Tell drama on spec and carried it to Hal Wallis. Hal read it and next day cabled the writers to have the treatment ready by June for Muni's first picture.

Muni, you'll recall, created a great impression with his performance as Louis Pasteur. Certainly there is no more colorful story than that of Tell who, sentenced to die unless he successfully shot an apple off his son's head, accomplished that feat. Later he freed Switzerland.

Louella O. Parsons

Critics and fans alike acclaimed Muni's work in the Pasteur picture and were frantic for the next picture. Since Louella Parsons is the first person to see the script, it will be up to her to tell you whether or not Muni will be starred in "The Life of William Tell."

Margot Grahame Carries off Honors

By PEGGY DOYLE

The best and, frankly, the only thing about the new Philip Goodman comedy, "Lady at Large," which opened last night at the Plymouth, is the alluring screen presence of movie star Margot Grahame.

Were it not for her glamorous personality, the award for charming John Frederics knick-knacks she tilts on her neatly and most happily auburned hair and the slight but authentic English quality in her crisp fascinating voice, it is doubtful that the audience would have restrained their ennui as well as they did last evening.

But, indubitably they how! looking at and listening to the intriguing Hollywoodian who began her stage career in South Africa 14 years ago! Producer Milton Shubert has imported her for his current production.

Not that she, or anybody else in the cast, had anything important or even vaguely interesting to say for Playwright Goodman to take the words out of the mouths of Messrs. Goodman's well-known jokesmiths. It's entirely corny in his set-up. Some of the lobby critics even were outspoken enough to say that they did the scene they main better at the old Orpheum Theater.

James Rennie, Broadway actor, comes back to the fold after a long absence to play opposite Miss Grahame's Lady of the title. He is the Gentleman, an international detective who keeps his identity secret until well into the second act.

extract a few reluctant laughs from the audience. This seems in questionable taste. Arthur Donaldson as the hotelkeeper, Alfred A. Hesse, as the waiter and Dudley Clements, as the head of the international detective agency employing Rennie, acquitted themselves creditably. Thomas Fisher as the mysterious Alexis, alias Prince Somebodyorother, who keeps his fingerprints exclusive by wearing gloves during business hours, seemed entirely lacking in the sinister quality required for his role.

New Deal "Gratitude"

Will the American People Permit This Outrage?

The Editor Says: The New Deal's Budget Chief has cut heavily into the appropriations for the Federal Bureau of Investigation and has forced J. Edgar Hoover to drop half his G-Men, close offices, discontinue important investigations, curtail others.

Spending millions on projects for writers who can't write, artists who can't paint and actors who can't act, the New Deal suddenly begrudges a penny to the bureau that has won the gratitude of the nation and struck terror into the hearts of crooks.

What crime can the G-Men be committed to inspire this outrage, this unprecedented action?

Of course, the wrongdoing of one offense that is a mortal sin in Washington. They have made a PROFIT. For every dollar spent by the bureau it has returned seven dollars to the United States Treasury in fines.

One can imagine no greater affront to the most reckless spenders in the world's history. And to do it right under their noses. Perhaps Hoover should be guillotined.

They know how much this means upon hundreds of expertly trained crooks.

How the murderous kidnapers, bank robbers and Al Capones will REJOICE!

BUT THE PEOPLE! What about them? WILL THEY PERMIT THIS?

Parents of kidnaped children have breathed a little freer because of the G-Men's relentless war upon kidnapers. Safety will prevail only so long as the organization and personnel of the Federal Bureau of Investigation shall remain. WILL IMMEDIATELY.

Every American interested in the work of the G-Men must join that protest NOW.

That will leave only the criminals and the New Dealers in opposition.

BISHOP KEOUGH'S complaint of an attack upon three Protestant ministers by a woman who shouted her allegiance to Moscow [illegible] such as every real American.

Obviously the woman is one follower of Stalin who thinks the time ripe for her to behave as her sisters in Russia, Spain and other Communistic nations have behaved.

How long will it be before other followers take off their masks of harmless liberalism and crackpot idealism and behave in the same manner?

The answer to that important question depends on America and Americans.

Russia is ready. The program of murder and violence which she inspired and directed in other unfortunate countries can be ours whenever we want it.

We have only to continue to harbor the scheming horde of imported and domestic destructionists and be fooled by their sham and pretense to democratic purposes.

And they will do the rest, multiplying a millionfold the Providence incident.

Let us wake up NOW. Let us DEPORT the alien trouble-makers. And let us put our own trouble-makers IN JAIL, as we do other law-breakers.

The time to act is TODAY. Tomorrow may be too late.

The Political Parade

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

WASHINGTON, May 3

EVERY realistic politician in Washington who does his thinking with his head instead of with his pituitary glands understands very well that the President from now on can meet the exigencies of the economic depression only by deeds.

The time when words alone were sufficient has passed. Nobody knows this better than the business men who have been asked to come to Washington to co-operate with the Government.

Unfortunately there is no evidence that the Government is thinking realistically.

The dependence is still on the purely psychological factors.

That is what the huge new spending program boils down to, for one thing. The expectation is that of the $4,512,000,000 the actual spending can be kept down to less than $3,000,000,000.

About a billion and a half of authorization for loans probably never will be utilized. That is the understanding among the leaders, and probably they are right. The proposed loans fall beneficiaries of these loans are in no position to borrow.

SO FAR as concerns the effort by government to get together with business, that also is psychological. It is to create a better state of mind in the country. The motives are both economic and political, largely the latter.

Anybody who does not believe that the timing of Henry Fowler Wallace's visit with the Committee of One to Big Business [illegible] was a little but he would have plenty of time to see the point.

[illegible] was arranged to [illegible] Henry [illegible] to the White House [illegible] with Secretary Hopkins, Secretary Ickes, Secretary Morgenthau, who [illegible] $4,000,000,000 in New York and [illegible] of the Senate [illegible] came out of [illegible] many years.

[illegible] on the spending program in taking debt to share.

It will not be confused with stopping it, for that means impairment of account, but of course it [illegible] with so many drags that there will be a red stop signal on every corner.

In the Senate the investment will take the form of a drive for the direct allotment of the money to the States by name.

Under the last spending program, six of the largest States in the Union got 50 per cent of the goodies.

The more Senators study the figures which reveal how the pie was cut thick in some places, and mighty thin in others, the more they are determined not to let it happen again.

What of Today, Tomorrow?

Invest Security Cash, Senator Lodge Urges

The Boston Evening American today presents the third in a series of exclusive articles disclosing the views of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., on important matters now before the nation.

The second article, in which Senator Lodge criticized the government's handling of Social Security money and urged reduced assessments, appeared in Monday's Boston Evening American.

By JOHN BRADFORD MAIN

Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

Put Social Security taxes to work to revive business and end unemployment!

That is the suggestion urged by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., of Massachusetts. Already it has become a storm center in Washington.

Senator Lodge's suggestion is simplicity itself:

TURN SOCIAL SECURITY TAX COLLECTIONS BACK TO THE STATES IN WHICH THEY ARE COLLECTED, SENATOR LODGE URGES, AND LET THE MONEY BE INVESTED IN LOCAL BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY!

Thus, Senator Lodge points out, the Social Security tax YOU pay — the money that comes out of YOUR pay envelope each week — will be used RIGHT HERE AT HOME to make YOUR JOB safer and make business conditions better.

As it is now, under the present Social Security set-up, the money is being spent as fast as it comes in. It is being spent by other departments on other projects and activities of the Federal Government far removed from social security.

Technically, these other divisions and agencies of the Federal Government are "borrowing" the money. The fact remains, Senator Lodge points out, that there IS no money in the Social Security "fund" — only a lot of Government I O U's.

When the time comes for these I O U's to be paid, YOU WILL BE TAXED ALL OVER AGAIN A SECOND TIME, for the money to pay them WITH. The only place the Government CAN get money is from TAXES from YOU!

Senator Lodge already has made one attempt, in the Senate, to halt this spending of Social Security taxes for other purposes.

"Your Social Security taxes should be invested!" Senator Lodge explained to this reporter, "in exactly the same manner as the money you pay week by week, or month by month, or year by year, when you take out ANY insurance policy.

"What would you say if you found your insurance company was spending all the money it received in premiums as fast as it got it—and expected to 'make it up' by charging you DOUBLE premiums later on?"

Senator Lodge proposes the following:

1. Instead of the Federal Government's present SPENDING policy, an INVESTMENT policy.

2. Instead of the Federal Government, as at present, having ALL of the Social Security taxes, Senator Lodge suggests that a Federal fund of not more than $1,000,000,000—a little less than two years' estimated Social Security tax collections would be entirely sufficient. Then

3. THE REST of your Social Security taxes, Senator Lodge urges SHOULD BE TURNED BACK TO THE STATES NOT to be SPENT, but to be INVESTED in home industries and business just as the money you put in the savings bank is invested.

The allocation of YOUR Social Security taxes to YOUR OWN HOME STATE it is emphasized, would be strictly on a basis in proportion to the Social Security taxes each State pays.

"As it is now," Senator Lodge explained, again, "the Social Security taxes the wage earners in Massachusetts [illegible] are paying are being used perhaps to help the Southern share-cropper, perhaps for farms and irrigation projects in the West [illegible] for purely purposes of governmental [illegible] FEDERAL government but certainly NOT to help Massachusetts. Except of course as Massachusetts shares in some little extent as it does share in N.R.A. [illegible] benefits.

"By the end of [illegible] and a dozen States [illegible] the taxes [illegible] of the States and the Federal Government [illegible] said.

"But THESE are SOCIAL SECURITY taxes. They should, [illegible] be handled [illegible] at all. They [illegible] the wage earners and employers of each State [illegible] for a specific purpose.

"IT IS CLEAR AND PLAIN THAT THE CREATION OF SOCIAL SECURITY WAS INTENDED TO FINANCE THE GOVERNMENT.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — The triumphant foes of the President's Government Reorganization Bill have a surprise in store for them.

Barring a last minute change in secret plans, Administration leaders will shortly revive the legislation in the House and [illegible] a new offensive to write it into law. Two factors are behind the decision.

"Jim" Mead

1. The defeat in the inner circle that fears the [illegible] powerful popular reaction against the [illegible] of the measure, and that a majority of the Congressmen who voted with the opposition now regret they did so and are eager to climb back on the Roosevelt bandwagon.

2. That even if the bill is rejected a second time, it would be good political strategy for the Administration to make the issue clear-cut by forcing the boys to stand up and be counted again.

If the House stands pat and refuses to give ground on the legislation, the President has definitely determined to make [illegible] organization a battle-cry in this year's [illegible].

NEW YORK GOVERNOR: One man to keep an eye on, in placing any [illegible] odds or money on the next Governor of New York is Democratic Congressman James M. Mead of Buffalo.

The President and Jim Farley have been paying him a careful once-over with the idea that he may be the compromise candidate acceptable both to up-state Democrats and to Leaders in New York City, and finally not unacceptable to Tammany.

Jim Mead is an important figure in Congress. has been a staunch supporter of Roosevelt policies but will require a considerable [illegible] before he can go up in the entire state.

This does not mean Senator General Pat Jackson is out of the running.

NOTE—Jim Mead has introduced in the House the most vicious censorship law in years giving the Post Office Department the right to prosecute censorship cases at the place where the book or newspaper is received. Thus the Post Office might pick Dayton, Tenn., scene of the famous Scopes monkey trial, as the place in which to try its case, merely because someone sent a book through the mails to Dayton.

Cook Asparagus To Succulence

BY MARTHA LEE

Everyone seems to have been taking advantage of the asparagus on the market. So we've been asked to pass along more recipes for this succulent vegetable.

Just melted butter as a dressing seems to satisfy many, while others claim that asparagus must be served with Hollandaise sauce.

In any event we like to serve it as frequently as peaches during the season. So perhaps more recipes are needed.

Here's a creamed dish that rates "tops" when accompanied by a spring green bowl and a rhubarb pie. We suggest that bread patty cases would make a perfect base.

Or you might like to use French rolls cut in half crosswise with the center scooped out. Fry these shells in deep fat, or toast with melted butter and brown under the broiler. In the meantime prepare the creamed asparagus as follows:

[illegible]

SCALLOPED ASPARAGUS

[illegible]

Cream the asparagus and put in short lengths into a deep dish with enough water and cream to make it moist. Dot with butter and season to taste. Mix the butter and flour over the bread crumbs. Arrange the asparagus and the bread crumbs in alternate layers, ending with a layer of bread crumbs. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and the cheese. Cover the top layer with crumbs. Add the cream to the asparagus liquor and pour over the asparagus mixture. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 15 minutes. Serves 6.

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL

Double-Vitamin Cream

By ARLINE GOULD

WHEN the time arrives—if you've been very smart not to have had it already happen!—that the shimmering beauty of some May morning is darkened by the mere act of looking at your mirror and seeing reflected there a face which is suddenly lightening and crinkling around the temples and under the eyes, take heart!

This is the time of a new era in cosmetics, when the strength of a double vitamin cream is combined with vitamins in correct ratio. And aside from a new glow in your life we can't think of a thing that will bring a swift improved glow to your complexion sooner and more surely.

Announcing as the most important preparation that a certain fine house has created, a new double-vitamin cream. It is recommended especially for use at night with a tendency to dry and for older skins.

In place of the usual five creams one and other emulsions of heavy drying oils and the rich vitamins A and D, which the skin has been proved to absorb and assimilate.

Constance Agrees To Marry Gordon

CHAPTER 20

Taking her hands, Gordon drew her to her feet and kissed her. "You don't have to say anything, Constance. Your coming tonight tells me everything I want to know. Yes, I knew. I saw it happen every day you were here. I saw it in your eyes. This was meant to happen. It was planned. It has to be. Don't run away from it anymore. Don't run away from anything as wonderful as this. You are never going to be unhappy again because I'm not going to let you be unhappy."

Tender words. She drew away and said: No don't kiss me again please." The room was a blur . . . 'I'm engaged to Terry. I told you that. And I've been torn at my life. I don't think anyone could change it or anyone could come between us. I thought it was as unchanging a love for my mother

"Love is more than wanting a man to make love to you. That's the way it was with Terry and me. We were friends. But this

Even now she can't explain it. She can't and perhaps never would feel words to explain what happened to her since the first minute they had walked together. But something had taken possession of her and pulled up her arms and set her strong and eager against Gordon.

He said

She [illegible]

"Do you love me? You must tell me. You must tell me with words. I must hear you say it. I've waited so long and I've been so lonely. I've wanted you so much. I've been so afraid. Paul Cannon even. I would have to [illegible]

[illegible] no need of courage to tell them that she and Terry were in love, and [illegible] in October [illegible] be with him . . .

He said

Your eyes [illegible] Your [illegible] thing that you've ever seen and I want Gordon Kent to marry Nathaniel and [illegible] you see it? Let them talk! [illegible]

LOVE OR MADNESS?

[illegible] Was [illegible] Sophie [illegible] I was [illegible] Gordon [illegible] You [illegible] don't [illegible] Terry [illegible] responsible [illegible] ought to [illegible]

And although he had said that [illegible] I [illegible] he had said [illegible] he [illegible] Terry [illegible] Constance [illegible] Terry [illegible] Terry Carnes.

To [illegible] could never [illegible] Terry [illegible] love [illegible] and tender words and promises that were meant only to be kept.

To [illegible] Marry [illegible] Why not? Any [illegible] had [illegible] and Constance would have eloped and been wide [illegible] New York.

He [illegible] Terry [illegible] very [illegible] and [illegible] I [illegible] I [illegible] Yes I [illegible] I love [illegible]

Many [illegible] wrapped [illegible] and presented to [illegible] Constance's many ways 'I love you."

"I'LL MARRY YOU"

"I'm afraid I'm not different from other girls, Gordon."

He laughed. "But I'm offering you your future now and it won't be dull." Tilting her chin, he looked into her eyes. "Will you marry me and soon? No don't kiss me again please." The room was a blur . . . 'I'm engaged to Terry. I told you that. And I've been torn at my life. I don't think anyone could change it or anyone could come between us. I thought it was as unchanging a love for my mother

"Love is more than wanting a man to make love to you. That's the way it was with Terry and me. We were friends. But this

Austen Lake Says

Suffolk Sky Society: The Paddock Club

THE ULTRA-UTMOST IN BOSTON HORSE royalty is quarantined on the top deck of Suffolk Downs' clubhouse. This is a little bit of heaven in which the fastidious minority enjoy a maximum of legspread in communion with the skies and sip their nerve stimulants remote from the steerage horde.

AUSTEN LAKE

It costs $125 to join this select circle. But lest you think that mere possession of the initiation fee entitles you to squat under the parti-colored sun-parasols, rub elbows with cellophane-wrapped people, and order broken-English butlers to bring nickled coolers with golden bottlenecks protruding from the shaved ice, you aren't upstairs yet. Dear no! Nor will the absence of character stains, such as a police blotter record, get you past the doorman.

No Sale! But if you're not addicted to fawning for social favors with your nude fingers down on [illegible] and dear, you have your class with you [illegible] and a couple of [illegible] then you may be [illegible] You must!

Gambler's Third Estate

OBJECT OF THE PADDOCK CLUB, now in its third season, is to make race-going effortless for O. K. people and to spare members from profane rubbings against folk with halitosis in the betting queues, or frowsy parties peddling bum steers in the mutuel arcades. The Paddock Club sit on rubber doughnuts aloft where the zephyrs blow fresh from Revere beach and obsequious agents circulate, doing business on the cuff and thus eliminating the sweaty nuisance of standing at the betting wickets and fiddling filthy money till their bunions bust.

[illegible]

Second group at Suffolk are the folk who base medium social yearnings and pay larger fees to sit on unfastened chairs amid clothes horses of both sexes. Tops is the Paddock Club, which is just under the angels.

THE TENDENCY TOWARD SELECTIVE CREATION [illegible]

The celebrities named on these sheets always occupy the most expensive seats. But nobody ever bothers to enquire the names of the people back yonder in the rush sections. They are just the crowd.

[illegible]

Envy Is Universal

LET THE CROWD BE COMFORTED. It is doubtful that the estate of the so-called upper set is as enviable as it might seem from the turf levels at Suffolk Downs. The horse royalty can get sick as others, have their family feuds, divorce and legal bustups. And no man or woman, climbs to such pinnacles that he, or she, does not yearn to climb higher. Somewhere up is higher and that is where they wish to be.

[illegible]

For all his success and material wealth Walter's innards seemed consumed by a high, envious ache for things he did not have. So, last winter when he came apart it was from galloping disintegration traceable directly to his cravings to be higher than just UP. And now he is back in the crowd, envying what he once scorned as yokel simplicities. From his lowered station that is now Up.

The ache of envy is a mortal heritage not restricted to any social levels. And you might discover such an ache among the lofty seraphime of Suffolk horse society as they convene today to resume squinting over their paradisical balcony. Some may wish to sip nectar and strum harps.

Sponging Vicious Turf Evil

Affects Breathing of Horse, Lessening Speed

Thorp Prevented Practice at 'Gansett

This is the third of a series of articles on the "Inside Story of Racing."

By DAVE WILSON

Of all the nefarious practices which the racing authorities have had hard work in combating, in seeking to keep the sport honest, the most contemptible is "sponging."

The sponging of a horse is accomplished by placing a piece of sponge far up in the delicate nostrils of the animal so as to interfere with his breathing.

Standing around in his stall or going through only a casual workout, it does not interfere with the horse to any great degree, and quite often escapes the attention of even the trainer or groom who ordinarily is the most observant.

It is usually done under the cover of night and its purpose is to prevent the horse from running his best.

The author of the act usually is some bookie loaded down with money on the horse or some gambler who wishes to remove the threat of competition involved in order to bet on some other horse in the race.

EPIDEMIC AT BOWIE

Once the horse starts running and the delicate membrane of the nostril becomes irritated, the animal starts sweating, cutting down the breathing passage and preventing the horse from doing his best.

If your imagination refuses to visualize how effective this method is, try stuffing your own nostrils with cotton batting and then sprint from the Public Garden to the Boston Common at top speed. You'll be able.

Doubtless you may remember [illegible] fall meetings of a year ago there was an epidemic of sponging.

The authorities were quite helpless in their efforts to stamp out the practice, despite the fact that they threw a double cordon of guards around the stables, installed burglar alarm systems and in short did just about everything they could to stop the spongings from taking place.

The answer was of course that persons on the inside were involved.

They represented a powerful ring of New Jersey bookmakers who own a string of horses campaigning at the eastern coastline race tracks, such as New York, Florida and Maryland, then in New England.

What [illegible] Presiding Steward Tom Thorp of Buffalo, [illegible] who acting in the same capacity at Narragansett a year ago, opened the eyes of the same group before they got established in New England.

On entering Narragansett one day Tom noticed three gents he knew, from his newspaper experience, to be involved in practices which were detrimental to the turf, particularly sponging.

THORP GETS G-MEN

They attempted to sidle through the crowd when they noticed him, but he caught up with them, and warned them to leave this territory. They were resentful, pawey, and defied his warning.

Thorp called in the track detective agency on returning to the Stewards' office and ordered them picked up.

The detectives in question reported back that the persons sought were not on the track.

Now Thorp is a mild mannered Irishman until pushed too far and when the detectives, who feared to pick up the persons sought because of the strength behind them gave him that kind of a story, they reckoned without that fighting streak which he inherited from his forbears.

Thorp cracked down on the plain clothesmen and told them unless they had the persons he sought in front of [illegible] minutes, he would [illegible] G men.

To show [illegible] not bluffing, [illegible] dence himself [illegible] ence and asked the district man to come out to the track to see him.

STEWARDS HONEST

Inside of ten minutes he was talking with the "fixers" in the privacy of the stewards' sanctum at Gansett. And ten minutes later with the "G" man escorting them to the train, they were shipped back to their New York and New Jersey haunts.

These incidents are recited only to show what steps are taken for

TOM THORP

6 Reasons Why 5.85

WE WENT OVER THE TOP WITH 5.85

We cut the Gloom and cut the Price when we opened the Spring Season with our 45th Anniversary Sale Price and established a New Yardstick of Value with $5.85.

The price clicked. The public response was immediate. Reports just received from all Regal Stores from Coast to Coast showed that we went 'way over the top, and beat last year's record for Easter and the month of April.

The only reason we can give this outstanding Value at our Low Price is because we buy the finest Leathers from the world's best Tanners—make our shoes in our own Factory—and ship direct to our own stores—with only One Profit—from Maker to Wearer.

Our "take-off" records show that thousands of new customers who have been paying almost twice our price, have discovered that they can get all they expect in any shoe, in a Regal for $5.85.

War Admiral Is Wilson's Choice | Casey vs. Codman In Sculling Race

By JACK CONWAY

IT IS 1-20 Dave Wilson picks War Admiral to beat Seabiscuit in their $100,000 match race at Belmont on May 30 . . . Dave was the first race track handicapper to recognize War Admiral as the likely Kentucky Derby winner of a year ago . . . War Admiral then won the Derby, Preakness and Belmont.

Mr. Boston

An injury suffered in the Belmont prevented War Admiral clashing with Seabiscuit in the $50,000 Massachusetts Handicap last summer . . . This race was won by Seabiscuit after which his owner, Charley Howard, bought champagne for everybody in the press box.

Steve Casey, Irish heavyweight wrestler who has been discharged from St. Elizabeth's Hospital, will have dinner at the Harvard Club on Thursday evening as the guest of Russell S. Codman, Jr., famous Harvard sculler . . . Casey was a champion sculler in Ireland and it is planned to arrange for a match race on the Charles river between big Steve and Codman . . . Alan Wilson, Dr. Martin H. Spellman, Paul Bowser and this writer will sit in with Casey and Codman at the Harvard Club . . . Casey will be back in the gym training by the latter part of the week.

I do not blame Casey for being burned up over the fact Yvon Robert took the last contest which he posted for his Garden match with the Frenchman which was postponed . . . If Casey had decided early run out of the bout, Robert could not have been criticized for demanding the $1,000 forfeit . . . Steve however was obliged to undergo an emergency operation for an infected knee and was one of the most disappointed persons in town when he couldn't go through with the title battle . . . Robert is the first prominent athlete to ever take a forfeit under such circumstances.

Jim Needham of Worcester attracted considerable attention by his fine umpiring in the games at Hot Springs Ark. . . . Jim is sure to land with a major league club . . . While at Hot Springs the Worcester official helped "Shanty" Hogan get into condition . . . Shanty has taken off 30 pounds and is going to play with the San Diego Club of the Pacific Coast League.

Jim Moore who was recently leading the bandwagon for Princess Indira, ex-wife of the Maharajah of Cooch Behar, as head of the prospective future of India, is now trying to have Miss Horton hold the meetings . . . Moore is trying up excuses each day on the score as to why Beau Jack has not been given a match . . . Moore as for as Indira . . . Indira was Princess Baba in America a year from Paris . . . As Mrs. Jay Gould, wife of the Red Cox financier . . . Princess Indira of Cooch Behar's Baby Wins Prize at Horse Show . . . Miss Indira Gould, a new Gregory entered the Casey-Codman boat which was won by the Irishman.

Favor Newton In Quad Meet

N. H. Runs Its 26th Annual Interscholastics

The schoolboy track merry-go-round makes another speedy whirl this weekend with two important meets on the docket.

Friday afternoon, Newton high conducts its fourth annual quadrangular, with Lowell, Boston English, Brookline and Newton the competitors.

NEWTON IS FAVORED

Don Enoch's brilliant Newton spikemen, after their one-sided victory in the Worcester Polytech affair last week-end, look like a sure-fire cinch to capture their school's own invitation meet at the beautiful Dickinso nstadium saucer.

The Garden City cinder performers have power in every event, and there is hardly a chance of any of the other three teams edging them out for the 1938 laurels.

Frankie Hines and Don MacKinnon, double winners in the Worcester meet, should duplicate the fete on their home territory.

Then again, Billy Pescosolido, who placed second in the high and broad Saturday, might be strong enough to take both events this Friday.

Harold Harris, the Worcester Commerce ace who beat Pescosolido in oth the broad and high at Polytech, won't be able to stop Billy since his team is not in the competition.

Casey Asks Match With Yvon

Steve (Crusher) Casey, world heavyweight wrestling champion, has been discharged from St. Elizabeth's hospital where he underwent an emergency operation for an infected knee.

Dr. Martin H. Spellman, Casey's physician, declared the title-holder is well and can start training immediately. The Crusher expects to take a light workout this afternoon.

Casey is burned to a crisp over Yvon Robert taking his $5000 appearance forfeit.

Steve Casey

"It was very unsportsman like of Robert to take the money," Casey said. "If I had 'run out' on him, it would have been different, but with an infected knee it was impossible for me to go through with the match.

"I would not have taken his forfeit under similar conditions."

He is ready to put up another $5000 as an appearance forfeit, providing Robert will put up a like sum and let the entire amount go as a sidebet.

"Robert and his manager have been doing a lot of popping off—now let's see how brave he is," Casey said.

"If he is so sure I am afraid of a match with him, and that he can beat me, let him match my $5000.

LEE RUINS BEES' TRADE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 3—A second hand clothing dealer could have reaped a few shekels by being at the Union Station and bidding on the top coats and overcoats the Bees brought here. The weather was like Orlando. The Bees went out and watched the Cubs hand a ball game to the Cards. The Cubs hit three home runs off Lorne Warneke, their ex-mate. How many runs did they score off him? That's right, THREE. "Rip" Collins hit two and Frank Demaree hoisted one into the left field stands between Collins' clouts. If the Cards had blown that game, Casey Stengel might have come up with a trade. But Bill Lee ruined the Bees' chances by dropping a perfect toss from Collins in the eighth, and then the Cardinals went out and scored four runs and took the decision. Lee attempted to sneak a high inside ball on Ducky Medwick, and the National League batting champion parked the agate in the left field stands. Gene Moore is very much down in the dumps. His father was operated on down in Dallas, Texas, and Gene has not received any word from him yet. The Bees and the Cubs indulged in a four-hour fanning session last night. They were stopping at the same hotel and began to fraternize just as soon as they returned to their abode. Tony Lazzeri was noncommittal when queried on the relative strength of the National and American Leagues. Incidentally, it was "Duffy" Lewis, the road secretary of the Bees, who gave Lazzeri his start in baseball.—Grimes.

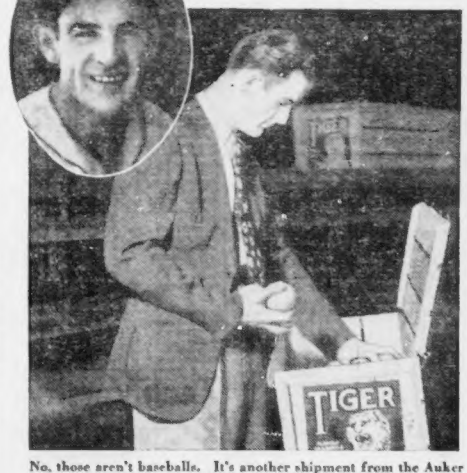
Auker Unpacks Shipment of "Tigers"

Pitcher Warns Boston "Tiger-Wheaties" Combination is Always Hard to Beat!



No, those aren't baseballs. It's another shipment from the Auker packing plant. A glass of juice from these big "Tiger" oranges, and then a bowl of Wheaties for Elden Auker.

Packing a punch from the pitching box, Elden Auker also unpacks a punch—a case or two of Tiger Brand oranges from his own Florida packing plant. Combined with Wheaties, cream or milk, and sugar, Auker's oranges help to supply lots of nourishment in many "Breakfasts of Champions" set before the hungry Tigers. And if you watch him work at Fenway Park, you'll see him bear down to earn that case of Wheaties he receives for every shut-out. Elden himself usually eats his Wheaties in the evening. And, he says, "Mrs. Auker often joins me in having a bowlful of those tasty Wheaties flakes."

See You at Fenway Park Today and Tomorrow!

Remember, if hungry ball players go for Wheaties, you'll probably like them, too. Wheaties with plenty of milk or cream and fruit—that famous "Breakfast of Champions"—gives you body-building proteins, necessary minerals, vitamins A, B, C, and a generous supply of food-energy. Start today with a double-play for nourishment and flavor. You'll be a Wheaties fan for life!

WHEATIES and advertising claims for them are accepted by the Council on Foods of the American Medical Association.

Co-Sport Rated Derby Outsider

But Cohort Gelding Has Good Record

(This is another of a series of daily stories introducing the leading three-year-olds of the American turf, which will vie for honors in the Kentucky Derby, Saturday.)

CO-SPORT, b.g., by Cohort-Sportress, by Sporting Blood.

Owned by Bert Friend and trained by R. T. Runnells, CO-SPORT is one of the outsiders in the betting, but is a definite starter in the Kentucky Derby this week-end . . . Co-Sport has worked in sensational fashion the past few weeks, and reports from the Blue Grass State indicate the Cohort gelding might be dangerous . . . Co-Sport's 1937 record includes 23 starts, ten wins, one second and three thirds. His total earnings as a juvenile reached $13,870 . . . The son of Cohort worked at Hialeah this winter, winning two races at the picturesque Florida track . . . One of his winning winter efforts saw the Friend color-bearer lead home Pasteurized and Alps . . . Co-Sport was much used as a two-year-old and was even dropped into several claiming events. He came up the "hard way," as the racing fraternity would say, and there are those horsemen who are going out on the limb and naming Co-Sport as their choice . . . Bobby Dotter is slated to ride Co-Sport in the Derby . . .

Stagehand Goes in Derby Trial

LOUISVILLE, Ky. May 3 (INS)—This looks like a big day for those horse-lovers fortunate enough to be among the early arrivals here for the Kentucky Derby which goes Saturday.

Earle Sande

Stagehand, still the sentimental favorite to win the big race despite poor showings in trials, is scheduled for a final tuneup and Fighting Fox, which is pushing Earle Sande's racer for pre-Derby attention, is due to arrive from New York.

Nine potential Derby rivals will run against Stagehand in the Derby trial at a mile.

The horse rules about a 4 to 5 favorite to run the rest of the field into the dust. A defeat would bog down the odds on the Sande horse considerably.

Pushing Stagehand in early betting are Fighting Fox and Bull Lea, which would be almost certain to become favored over Stagehand in the event the latter loses today.

The Fox should then rate about 5 to 2, with Bull Lea priced around 7 to 2 and Stagehand something like 4 to 1.

The feeling here is that the mile distance is too short for Stagehand to show his best, but until the race is run and the horse beaten, there were few willing to bet against him.

Lawrin and Mountain Ridge appeared to be the horses Stagehand would have to beat, but the rest of the field was good, too, with Mrs. Payne Whitney's Redbreast, Co-Sport and others entered.

Tech Varsity Remains Intact

The same Tech oarsmen who rowed against Harvard and Rutgers on Saturday, with a single exception, will race in the Compton Cup races on Lake Carnegie, Saturday.

Coach Cedric Valentine has implicit faith in his first eight, and not a change has been indicated. In the junior varsity shell, Gordon Holbrook has returned to the Tech quarters and is now rowing at No. 5, although he was formerly at No. 3. Fred Lamb, formerly in the No. 5 or "powerhouse" slide was moved toward the bow, to No. 3. In the 150-pound shell, similar shifts were made.

Ceiling Registers 3d in Row

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—Ceiling, five-year-old gelding from P. Dinehart's stable, scored his third straight victory over the Jamaica racing strip as the final week of the Metropolitan Jockey Club's spring meeting began.

The son of Ariel, held at 9 to 2, staged a strong finish in the six-furlong Polydor handicap, a Class "C" affair, to beat out I. J. Cohen's Noel H. and the favorite, Bob's Boya, representing J. D. Norris. Ceiling ran the six furlongs in 1:12 4-5.

Noel H., 16-5 second choice, held a comfortable lead going into the stretch. There Johnny Gilbert moved Ceiling up and caught Noel H. in the last few strides to win in a photo finish. Bob's Boys was three lengths behind.

Belmont Evans Takes Over Shea Stable

By DAVE WILSON

So successful was Belmont Evans with Mrs. Danny Shea's Jezreel on the winter loop at Hialeah and Tropical Park that Danny has decided to turn over his six horse racing stable to Belmont and devote his time to his stable at Powisset farm in Dover.

Danny Shea

Evans, who was born and brought up around the race track the son of a trainer, was educated to be an artist, but could not resist the call of the turf. He won two races with Jezreel this winter, that mare setting a track record in one which still stands, and she finished in the money on three other occasions.

Shea, who is one of the outstanding horsemen turned out in Massachusetts, has been trying to straddle two jobs. He would go to the race track at the break of day and train his race horses, return to the farm and school his hunters before lunch, and then return to the track and saddle his horses for their racing efforts.

Now he can devote himself to training and selling hunters and show horses, and still be sure that his race horses are getting the best of care.

BEST BET—WAR MINSTREL, SIXTH RACE

SUFFOLK DOWNS, May 3—War Minstrel a fair-to-middlin' handicap star from the Chicago stable of Mrs. Emil Denemark, is figured to celebrate his seasonal debut with an easy victory at the expense of mediocre rivals encountered in the six furlongs of the Brookline Handicap, sixth and featured number here tomorrow.

War Minstrel hasn't faced the barrier since the Orange Blossom Handicap at Tropical Park, when he finished a bangup third to Muche Gusto and Tatterdemalion. However, he worked well in Maryland and has since trained brilliantly over the local oval. His final being a breezing mile in 1:42 1-5 over a slow track.

FIRST RACE
Spindletop, French Bread, Laconic

SPINDLETOP, a Florida winner, is liked by split-second experts. FENCH BREAD, another brisk worker, is descending the claiming ladder. LACONIC has trained brilliantly.

SECOND RACE
Bahamas, Strange Times, Nemont

OLD BAHAMAS, a winner at Tropical Park, has worked well enough to suggest a winning performance first crack out of the box. STRANGE TIMES, on top Florida race, should prove troublesome. NEMONT is classy, but will have unknown Fagan in the saddle.

THIRD RACE
Sorceress, Marson, Odd Blue

SORCERESS is encountering little more than she drubbed in Florida. MARSON showed a good effort in last Saturday's Plymouth Rock. ODD BLUE won his last three in a row at Oaklawn.

FOURTH RACE
Dark Sweet, Friendly Paul, Iskie

DARK SWEET, a John L. Donovan-trained filly, ran a whale of a race to finish second to Modest Queen in her Jamaica final. FRIENDLY PAUL, freshened since Tropical Park, figures slightly better than ISKIE, another Florida campaigner.

FIFTH RACE
Golden Fate, R. Pinchot, Determined

With a weight shift of three pounds in his favor GOLDEN FATE must be favored to turn the tables on R. PINCHOT. The latter hung up a neck decision on Golden Fate in the above-mentioned race. DETERMINED did not like the muddy footing that prevailed on opening day.

SIXTH RACE
War Minstrel, Lady Higloss, Time Signal

WAR MINSTREL will have to drub LADY HIGLOSS. The lady, a good country sprinter in her own right, has been thoroughly re-conditioned since her Florida campaign. TIME SIGNAL beat platers only in Maryland competition.

SEVENTH RACE
Tiempo, Sun Way, Royal Flight

TIEMPO ran to the outside fence in her Haavre de Grace final, and then closed gamely to finish second to Saidona. SUN WAY finished second to Spanish Way in a recent race at Jamaica. ROYAL FLIGHT closed a tremendous gap in a sprint last out at the same track.

EIGHTH RACE
Swahili, Up and Up, Manrico

SWAHILI drubbed Vicar and other good ones in his lone winning essay at Havre De Grace. UP AND UP has trained well enough to warrant the next best rating. MANRICO is improving.

Sox Sock Best--Mack

Outclasses Tigers, 'Yanks,' Says A's Boss

By JOE CASHMAN

"Give me the first six hitters in the Red Sox lineup, and you can have the Yankees or the Tigers."

That astounding offer was made your enemy by none other than Connie Mack, who, man and boy, has been participating in the baseball parade for more than a half century and who has yet to be outsmarted.

"With Cramer, Vosmik, Foxx, Cronin, Higgins and Chapman coming to bat in order," the tall tactician continued, "the Sox are the most powerful offensive unit in the league.

Joe Vosmik

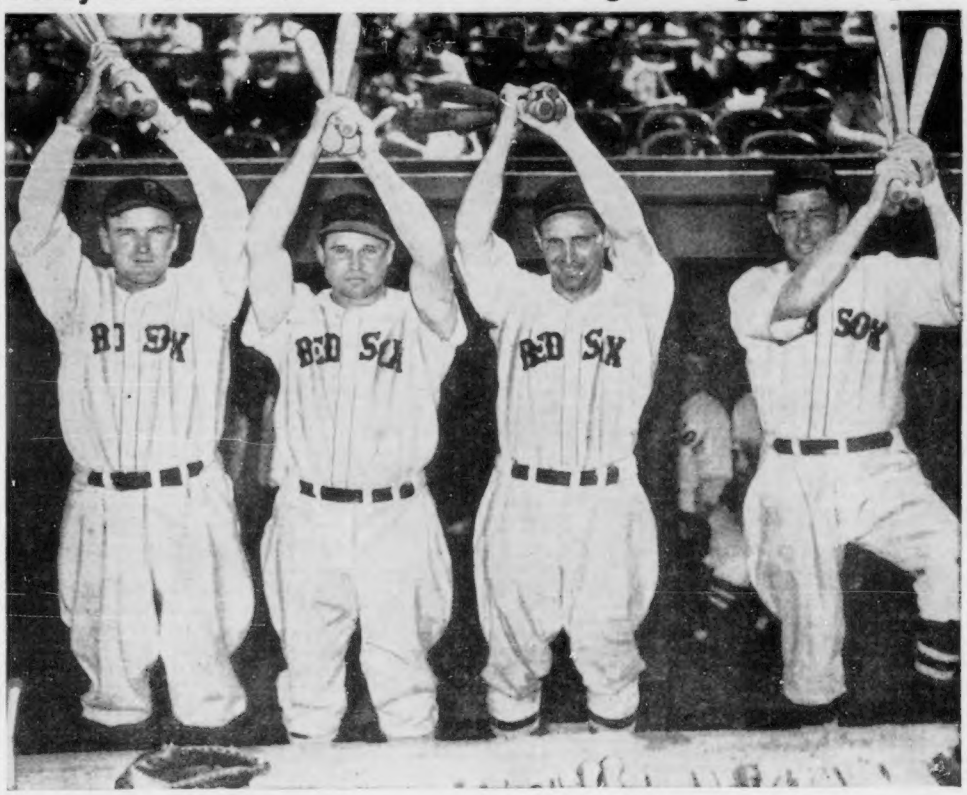
"I understand, too, that young Bobby Doerr is a pretty fair hitter, and I know fellows like McNair and Marcum are dangerous. But I'm considering only the top six in making my estimate.

Connie's life was despaired of last winter. Today he's the picture of health and talking about building another pennant - winning machine before retiring.

Mike Higgins

Long noted for his uncanny ability to foresee baseball happenings, he certainly lived up to it in making the aforementioned remarks about the Sox power. He hardly had the words out of his mouth before the Monday game started. Result? Sox 13, A's 1.

They're Connie's Choice as League Top Thumpers



Wrap Them Up. Connie Mack says he'll take Red Sox sluggers in preference to Yankees' or Tigers' any day in the week—or even on Sunday. And good ol' Connie doesn't fib. Left to right in photo are: Joe Cronin, Jimmy Foxx, Ben Chapman, Doc Cramer. Other members of slugging sextet are Joe Vosmik and Pinky Higgins. Sox showed their power in final game with Connie's A's when they blasted out 16 hits to win, 13-1.
